

Jacob Stallings
Quinton Chudik

CS 4287-01 Assignment 1 - Teamwork

We split up the work pretty evenly. Quinn is more comfortable with Linux and bash so he took on a lot of the setting up VM's and ssh connections. Jacob is more comfortable with Python & JSON so he headed up the implementation of producer and consumer files and using the pycouchdb API. For the most part though, we both worked together on every part of the project. We are roommates, so it was really easy for both of us to just sit down and work together. We also wrote all the write ups together with one of us typing.
